No Decision at September 15 Council Meeting

The Toronto Star article at this link titled "Councillors dither over developers' $17M offer" accessible at <http://www.thestar.com/news/gta/article/696383> and copied below provides a first media report on yesterday's North York Community Council Meeting at which Cadillac Fairview's Phase Two application of the Don Mills Centre redevelopment was considered.

Regarding the DMRI survey mentioned in the article, which was apparently completed by 1,300 residents, of which 85% are said to have voted in favour of the application, it is important to note, as previously pointed out, that the survey was not distributed to the whole Don Mills community. Many Don Mills residents never received the survey.
