

Ironic that own group won't listen

May 20, 2006. 01:00 AM

Demolition of the Don Mills Centre

I have been in contact with both Cadillac Fairview and its owner, the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan, regarding the upcoming demolition of the indoor shopping mall, the Don Mills Centre. (It is to be replaced by retail stores and condominiums in an outdoor concept.)

In both cases, their replies (when they reply) have been arrogant and condescending. They have brushed aside a petition of more than 5,000 signatures against the outdoor concept.

Is it not ironic that my own teachers' pension plan owns a developer which is about to destroy an indoor mall that serves the needs of many senior citizens and disabled people?

Are the former patrons of the former indoor mall now doomed to the confines of their apartments during the winter months?

When will this insane race for ever-increasing profits over the needs and desires of people living in communities ever end?

John Blair, Don Mills, Toronto